The stories that rocked and shocked America!

The past year was filled with events that seemed to all. Countries fell apart, assassinations were made, and the AIDS virus continued to spread. Soviet President Gorbachev was placed on the issue as the Communist Party attempted a coup to regain power. Unlike his predecessor, Gorbachev's life was spared. The U.S. union system was also been this year. As Supreme Court Justice Thurgood Marshall stepped down, Clarence Thomas was nominated as his successor. Thomas' former colleague, Anita Hill, publicly accused him of sexual harassment. Rape trials also received much attention. Both Mike Tyson and William Kennedy Smith were brought to trial and tried for this crime. While Smith was found not guilty, Tyson was convicted and is currently awaiting an appeal. AIDS captured world wide attention when Magic Johnson publicly announced that he had tested positive for the HIV virus. Additionally, Freddie Mercury, a member of the rock group Queen, passed away after a long fight with AIDS.
