Blackboard Instructions

First, type in emory.edu into your browser and press enter. Then when it loads, in the top right hand corner of the webpage, ==find the search bar== and type in "Blackboard," and press enter. This will take you to another page that contains a link to the Blackboard. Click on the first link that appears on the page that says "Blackboard." Once you have reached the login page, type in your username and password and press enter. This will take you to the Blackboard home page where you can access different classes. Classes can be found under the bar that reads "Courses: Quick View."

To find a syllabus for English class for example, ==click on your English class== listen under "Courses: Quick View." Then, on the next page, on the left side of the screen, look for a black toolbar. In that toolbar, click on "Syllabus," and ==you will find a link to a PDF== file containing the class's syllabus.

To find where you will create a blog, find the black toolbar and click on "Tools." This will bring you to a page with multiple links. Find the link that says "Blogs" and click on it. There should be an option to create a blog.

To find where you will create your reflection diary, click on the link in the black toolbar that says "Tools." On this page, find the link that says "Journals" and click on it. There should be an option to create a journal, which will serve as your Reflection Diary.
